10,000 MAY VOTE TUESDAY AT PRIMARIES

About 10,000 to 11,000 Adams countians are expected Tuesday to cast their ballots in the annual primary election. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The 10,000 to 11,000 figure represents about 50 to 60 per cent of the 19,426 eligible to cast ballots Tuesday, 10,383 Republicans and 9,043 Democrats. The 246 non-partisan voters and the five members of splinter parties will not have an opportunity to cast ballots as the two major parties select their nominees for the election in November.

Prior primaries show a great variance in the numbers turning out, ranging from about 40 per cent to about 70 per cent. Usually the largest turnout occurs when there are fights for a number of county offices. This year there are no "court house" posts to be filled. At the same time there are some battles of interest in the county, plus presidential allure to the primary and the number of votes cast is expected to be higher than the "low" years.

See Big Cumberland Vote

Political observers look for a good vote for President Eisenhower on the Republican ticket. Cumberland Twp. election officials are hoping that among the voters there Tuesday will be the President and Mrs. Eisenhower. Cumberland election officials will probably have the largest turnout of any district in the county. Cumberland with 622 registered Republicans and 399 Democrats is now the largest voting district, in number of eligible voters, in the county.

Adlai E. Stevenson is the only candidate listed for president on the Democratic ticket but political observers in the county are looking forward with interest to find out how many written-in votes there will be for Estes Kefauver and other Democratic potential Presidential candidates.

Otherwise the Democrats will have few problems with their ballot. There is only one contest listed — Eston D. Franks, Littlestown R. 1, and James S. Shenk, 3 Chambersburg St., both seeking nomination for Assemblyman.

Many Republican Contests

Announcement of the "Good Deed Day" was made today by Richard Gaenzle, chairman of the committee in charge, and Harold Cooper, president of the chapter.

Two captains will be in charge of the engine house crew, Louis Weislogel and John Shallock. Three captains have been assigned to the detail at the county home, Charles Biehler, Robert Little and Lawrence Gaenzle.

Will Award Prizes

The project is an innovation for the fraternity which has 119 chapters in the United States and Canada with 60,000 living alumni and undergraduate members.

Fraternity officers explain that the day, or days, will be made an annual custom under the title of "Community Service Day," and describe their undertaking as a "dynamic and voluntary development of a new trend in campus activity, in which horseplay, hazing, and aimless use of spare time have been giving way to an active interest and participation in the pressing matter of the big world of jobs, civic and foreign affairs."

It was announced that the international fraternity, whose headquarters are at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, will distribute team trophies to the chapter judged as having the most conspicuous community success in its one-day project, and to 24 other chapters deemed as most striking with their results in the fraternity's 24 "provinces."

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL FOR 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF BATTLE IN 1963

(Special To The Times)
HARRISBURG, April 21 (AP) — Plans for the 100th anniversary Battle of Gettysburg and Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address were off to an early start today.

In fact, seven years early.

The centennial won't arrive until 1963 but Gov. George M. Leader Friday signed into law a $5,000 appropriation laying the groundwork for the celebration.

"Surely, we must take pains to make the centennial anniversary of 1963 as stirring a celebration, as fitting a memorial as it lies within our power to arrange," the governor said.

The new law permits the governor to appoint a nine-man commission to make arrangements for the centennial of the battle credited as the turning point of the Civil War. Similar celebrations were held in 1913 for the 50th anniversary and in 1938 for the 75th anniversary.

Rice Proposes Monument

John S. Rice, secretary of Property and supplies and chairman of the 1938 celebration, proposed an international monument for the centennial.

"Our national peace monument, erected in 1938, is one of eternal light," Rice said. "What could be more fitting an international monument than a Lincoln monument?"

He said all peaceful nations should be invited to participate "in this international monument to peace."

In 1938, 1,845 Civil War veterans from the North and South turned up for the 75th anniversary. No survivors are expected by 1963 and (Continued on Page 3)

FLUORIDATION IS STUDIED BY CIVIC COUNCIL

The matter of fluoridation of water was discussed at length at a meeting of the Women's Civic Council at the YWCA Friday night. Mrs. Donald M. Swope had sent a letter to the previous meeting asking that the Council take the initiative in having this process adopted in Gettysburg. The Gettysburg Water Authority informed the Council that this was prohibited in some states. In California for instance, it was stated that no preparation containing fluorides may be marketed, since fluoride in any form is classified under California law as a class A poison.

Members reported, however, after a month of investigation that local dentists and doctors apparently approved the process. It was announced that seven practicing dentists in Westminster, Md., have sent a letter to Maryland's Public Service Commission requesting the fluoridation of water. After much discussion it was decided to refer the matter to the member groups to a vote. If sufficient report in favor of this process at the next meeting the Council will go into the matter further.

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, presided at the meeting with 21 member groups represented. Mrs. J. Walter Colman, treasurer, reported that $75 has been received to date toward the purchase of the copy of the "Gettysburg" film. The most recent contribution was $5 from the Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary. Mrs. Pearl Wiser reported on the March meeting of town council.

In the third of a series of studies of borough work Councilman Harold L. Ecker, chairman of the health committee, said fluoridation would have to be presented to the municipal authority. Stating that other members of his committee were J. Glenn Guise and Mahlon P. Harzell, Ecker said that Health Officer Donald Staub makes regular inspections, licenses restaurants and drug stores and conducts the mosquito spraying in the summer. He said that he had studied borough ordinances and found many concerning public nuisances, communicable diseases, hauling dead animals, keeping hogs, regulating outside toilets, and garbage. The most recent ordinance was one concerning dogs running at large, which requires the person complaining to make the charge to local police. He reported that next Saturday, Gettysburg will start the clean-up program in the borough. Members requested that the scheduled for pickups be published at least several days ahead of time.

Next month J. Glenn Guise, chairman of the Safety Committee, will speak to the council.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL FOR 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF BATTLE IN 1963

(Special To The Times)
HARRISBURG, April 21 (AP) — Plans for the 100th anniversary Battle of Gettysburg and Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address were off to an early start today.

In fact, seven years early.

The centennial won't arrive until 1963 but Gov. George M. Leader Friday signed into law a $5,000 appropriation laying the groundwork for the celebration.

"Surely, we must take pains to make the centennial anniversary of 1963 as stirring a celebration, as fitting a memorial as it lies within our power to arrange," the governor said.

"A WISE MAN"

A wise man doesn't have to be a scholar of renown... but he must know a smile is worth... far more than any frown... nor does he have to have great wealth... in form of shining gold... he only has to have the things... most anyone can hold... like love and kindness cloaked in faith... and understanding too... along with these he must trust God... and to himself be true... a wise man takes as well as gives... of friendly good advice... he also knows that righteousness... will lead to paradise... a wise man knows that brotherhood... is life's eternal key... to peace on earth and happiness... in all the days to be... a learned man knows when to speak... and when to close his eyes... these are the things which tend to prove... a man is truly wise.

MACY STORE STRIKE ENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—Macy's department stores and representatives of 8,000 striking employees reached a contract agreement early today after a 29-hour mediation session.

The settlement, details of which were not disclosed, must be ratified by members of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union.

A union spokesman said a membership meeting was not expected until tomorrow and that picketing would continue today.

The settlement of the 11-day-old walkout was announced by Thomas L. Norton, dean of the New York University School of Commerce, chairman of the mayor's citizens committee.

The announcement contained no word as to when workers would return to their jobs at the huge Herald Square store, its four branches and two warehouses.

The union had demanded a $6 weekly wage increase spread over two years plus a shorter work week and other benefits.

Macy's had offered the $6 spread over three years.

The union estimated the present average wage at $56 a week. A union spokesman told a newsman that the agreement would provide more money and better conditions for Macy employees but that the shorter work week had not been achieved.

TENTATIVELY
APPROVE SITE
FOR RIVER DAM

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Army Engineers have tentatively approved Tocks Island as the site for the proposed Delaware River dam.

Col. Allen Clark of the Engineers' Philadelphia office said yesterday Tocks Island was superior to Wallpack Bend as a site for the dam because a dam at the island would have 60 per cent greater capacity.

He said the engineers must still determine whether there is sufficient bedrock to support the dam at Tocks Island.

Preliminary Probe
Col. Clark appeared before a joint committee of the Pennsylvania Legislature in session at the Monroe County Courthouse.

He said Wallpack Bend has little value as a flood control dam, since it would be full most of the time in order to supply water for drinking and industrial use. Because of that, he declared, no space would be left to allow for flood control.

Col. Clark based his testimony on preliminary investigations by the engineers.

He told the committee the engineers had been specifically instructed by Congress to study the proposed dam site in the light of a "comprehensive plan" for control and use of water resources all along the Delaware. Congress ordered the study after last year's floods along the river and its tributaries.

The proposed reservoir "must be examined not alone but as an integral part of a whole system of engineering structures necessary for the conservation and intelligent use of our water resources," Col. Clark said.

He declared previous studies at the Wallpack Bend site were made primarily or exclusively for development of a water storage reservoir.

He added that Tocks Island had been rejected as a dam site in those studies on the basis of "quite limited" explorations of the land's subsurface.

"We believe that... further studies should be made because of the considerable greater storage which would be provided compared with a dam at Wallpack Bend," he said, adding:

"Admittedly, a dam at Tocks Island will cost more than one at Wallpack Bend. Obviously, the merit of Tocks Island will be reflected in the greater benefit to be derived from its increased storage. We do not believe we should analyze the benefit of Tocks Island for flood control alone. Rather we should analyze the benefit as an integral part of a comprehensive plan for water resources development."

Other considerations include an adequate municipal water supply for Philadelphia, northeastern New Jersey and other areas; the need for water by industry; future for Philadelphia, northeastern and the recreational values of the river.

Col. Clark said a comparative study of costs should be completed by January of next year and the full report on the proposal should be ready in 1959.

EXTEND EXPERIMENT
WASHINGTON (AP)—The civil Aeronautics Board has extended for one year Allegheny Airlines' experiment in developing a suitable east-west service for cities on its route in Pennsylvania.

The board yesterday granted the airlines renewed authority to serve Oil City-Franklin, Clearfield-DuBois-Philipsburg and Bellefonte-State College on a daily round trip between Cleveland and Philadelphia, and to serve Oil City-Franklin on a daily round trip flight between Cleveland and New York.

Allegheny said the results of its tryout service, started last April, were good enough to justify continuation.

The average American consumed 5 1/2 bushels of wheat in 1959.

SEEK JURY IN MURDER TRIAL

By FRANK PITMAN

DENVER (AP)—Close to agreement after five days of dueling, attorneys drove today to finish selection of a jury in the murder trial of John Gilbert Graham, 24.

He is accused in the death of his health mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55, who died with 43 others in the explosion of an airliner last Nov. 1. Graham is accused of putting a dynamite bomb in his mother's luggage before buying $37,500 flight insurance on her life.

There have been 176 prospective jurors called to the box. Sixty-four were excused when they said they objected to the death penalty. Fifty-three were released because they said they had fixed opinions and evidence would not change them. Others were excused for various reasons.

The prosecution has exercised nine peremptory challenges and the defense has used eight. Each side has 15 of these challenges which permit the removal of a prospective juror without stating a reason.

Forty-six prospective jurors were called to the box yesterday. Eighteen were excused when they said they would not assess the death penalty. Nineteen were released when they said their opinions would not be changed by evidence.

The tentative jury now in the box is made up of six women and seven men. The 13th woman at this time, is an alternate who hears the case but does not deliberate on the verdict unless one of the regulars is excused.

SOME SNOW AND
RAIN IN NATION

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There were a few wet spots in the Northeast and sections of the Southwest but generally fair weather prevailed in most of the country today.

Light snow or snow flurries fell again this morning in central New York and the central sections of New England. Cold northerly winds kept temperatures in wide areas of the Northeast below seasonal levels.

Light rain sprinkled areas of central and southern Texas while scattered showers fell in central Arizona and New Mexico. Dry weather was reported in other parts of the nation.

A mild spell continued in much of the area from the Rockies westward to the Pacific Coast. There a warming trend from the Great Lakes region westward through the Northern Plains and into the northern part of the Middle Mississippi Valley and into the Central and Southern Plains.

Biggest temperature advances, from 10 to 17 degrees, were from the Great Lakes area into the Plains.

The average length of life for U. S. wage earners has reached 70 years.

GOVERNOR SIGNS

a new approach will be sought for the fate.

Gives Pen To Rice
Leader signed the measure in Rice's presence in the governor's office Friday. Also on hand were Burgess William G. Weaver, Atty. Donald M. Swope and Raymond Menges, all of Gettysburg.

Leader presented the pen he used in signing the law to Rice who in turn will give it to the Adams County Historical Society.

The governor said in his statement:

"The bill I signed into law yesterday setting up a nine-man planning commission to consider and arrange the observance of the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address may seem, at first glance, to be premature.

"Although the centennial of the Battle does not occur until 1963, it nevertheless seems to me that the commemoration of an anniversary so significant in American history must be planned well in advance if it is to do justice to its occasion.

Recalls Peace Memorial
"I remember standing—18 years old—in the hot July sun of Gettysburg on the occasion of its 75th anniversary, and I remember hearing a great American—Franklin Delano Roosevelt—speak movingly of that terrible battle and of the Gettysburg Address delivered by Abraham Lincoln.

"I remember the lighting of the Eternal Light Peace Memorial. It was a thrilling event and one I never forgot. I doubt if anyone else that day will forget it either. "Surely we must take pains to make the centennial anniversary of 1963 as stirring a celebration, as fitting a memorial as it lies within our power to arrange."

Rice issued a statement describing the Gettysburg Battlefield as "a living memorial to the men of North and South who gave their life blood for two separate causes."

He continued:
Observed Milestones
"The lines of tombstones and the state monuments to the hero dead attest to this.

"Fifty years after the battle that saw men of blue and grey fall into a common grave the veterans of that war and battle met in Gettysburg."

WILL START TO
"SPIN WEB" IN
MURDER TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dist. Atty. Victor H. Blanc says he will "begin spinning the web" in the Lulubel Rossman murder trial when it resumes next week.

He said he will first put two more identification witnesses on the stand—witnesses who maintain they saw defendant Raymond P. Wilson, 33, in Philadelphia around the time of the wealthy widow's slaying.

Then, Blanc said, subsequent testimony will prove "extremely interesting."

Yesterday, at the close of the second week of the trial, five witnesses said Wilson was the man they had seen in various places in the city in the days immediately preceding the murder of the 76-year-old Mrs. Rossman.

The woman was found strangled in her hotel room last July.

Saw Wilson On Street
The witnesses told of seeing Wilson on the street, in several bars and in two hotels. Wilson has denied that he was in Philadelphia at that time.

Wilson, of Tulsa, Okla., one of four men charged with the murder, is the only one on trial now. The Commonwealth maintains that he and Frank J. Ellsworth, 36, of Tampa, Fla., and formerly of Omaha, killed the widow and robbed her of more than $100,000 after being recruited by the two other defendants—Robert W. Thomas, former Tulsa policeman, and Gus A. DeMoss, suspended Tulsa police radio dispatcher.

One witness, James J. McKelvey, a bartender, testified that Wilson was in the tap room where he worked when McKelvey arrived for work on the afternoon of last July 1. McKelvey said Wilson "kept looking toward the two entrances of the bar but no one came in to meet him."

Also telling of seeing Wilson in Philadelphia were Mrs. Emma Smith, a cashier at the Adelphi Hotel; Theresa Carter, a switchboard operator and maid at the Biltmore Hotel; Mrs. Barbara Ann Miller, a dancer at a bar; and Helen White, who said Wilson tried to pick her up on the street.

TEN YEARS AGO

General D. D. Eisenhower To Give Commencement Address Here May 27: General of the Armies Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the Allied forces in Europe and present Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army, will be the speaker May 27 at the annual commencement exercises at Gettysburg College, President Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson announced today.

Miss Miller, John E. Berger, Wed Thursday: Miss Winifred L. Miller, daughter of Major and Mrs. Edgar A. Miller, Baltimore street, and John E. Berger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Berger, Carlisle street, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon in St. James Lutheran church by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor.

Red Cross Gives Assistance To Isolated Adams Countians: To folks who live in towns and on broad highways the world is a small place. Cars whiz one to stores and amusement centers. There is no place in the county that one cannot go.

But to some countians the world is a huge place far far away and stores are practically out of reach. This is the story of one of them. The lady, who is far into her sixties, lives alone on a winding path along a stream. The stream has washed out much of the old earthen road and it is impossible for cars to reach the place. The mail box is at the end of the lane, a mile from the house. The nearest neighbors are a half mile away if one wishes to travel through the fields.

Once things were fairly easy. There were two sons who could walk or ride the horse to town and secure supplies. Now one son is in the Navy and the other has become ill and is in an institution. The elderly lady is all alone, unable to do little more than take care of herself. What once was fertile farm land lies fallow for there is no one to do the work.

For the past several weeks she has been without oil for her lamps so she goes to bed when darkness falls. Her supply of groceries has almost run out. She wrote the county Red Cross and sent money asking that supplies be purchased. The chapter will make the purchases and will make the journey back to her home as it did several months ago when she asked the same aid.

When the Red Cross workers go there they will be the first visitors in months. They will tell of what has happened in the world the past few months. When they leave all will be quiet again for possibly many more months.

It has been 150 years since Adams county was considered frontier country — but there are still some as lonely as the first settlers who came to a land inhabited by no one.

Theresa Herring Wed To Clyde Rohrbach: Miss C. Theresa Herring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Herring, Fairfield, and Clyde A. Rohrbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rohrbach, 141 Steinwehr avenue, were united in marriage this afternoon at 12 o'clock in the rectory of St. Mary's Catholic church, Fairfield, by the bride's pastor, Rev. Joseph Gotwalt.

Sgt. John MacPhail Is Given Discharge: Former Staff Sgt. John A. MacPhail and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don MacPhail, now of Chester, and former operators of the West Gettysburg Inn, spent this morning here.

John, recently discharged from the army after three years of service, toured camps in western Europe after the war with special service unit presenting GI shows. He helped write the script for the first of the shows, "Rhapsody In Blue Serge."

Local Girl Engaged To Brooklyn Man: Announcement was made on Sunday of the engagement of Miss Helen Lazos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lazos, 155 East Water street, to George Ramos, son of John Ramos, Brooklyn, N. Y. The announcement was made at a dinner party at the Lazos home. Miss Lazos graduated from Gettysburg high school last June and since

Today's Talk

THIS UNFINISHED WORLD
Nothing in the reading of books is so fascinating as history. It would appear that after thousands of years the peoples of the earth would have arrived at a time when hates and wars would have proved their waste and loss of everything worthwhile in life. It was a sad day that the Chinese invented gunpowder!

Great cities and civilizations have been born, lived, and died in ashes. Why, and for what? There is constant re-building all over the earth. A block from my office was a building that was notable as a structure of beauty a few years back but which was totally torn down to make room for a greater one occupying almost an entire block. No city is ever finished! Nor is anyone's education.

Read your Bible and you will read on its very first page that God created the earth in six days and on the seventh He "rested." But all that took place before the earth had been peopled and people had been given the chance to get along together. Even Adam and Eve had differences, and Cain and Abel had a fight, one of them being killed!

There were reasons why there came to be the many different races, colors and characteristics. But how tragic that during all these thousands of years peoples over the earth have not learned to live peaceably and happily together. What a sad state of affairs. When is this world going to be finally finished so that there will be universal peace and understanding?

The most valuable asset that this world has is not its fabulous wealth, its kingdoms and farflung nationalities, its vast acreages and natural resources, but its people. Never will the world be finished as an Earth that God created until there is an equality of interests and individual happiness. People are wealth!

WEDDING DAY ARRIVES FOR MISS TRUMAN

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Harry S. Truman's daughter Margaret, as happy a young woman as ever lost her heart to a man, gets married today.

The blonde-haired girl who grew to young womanhood in the White House and Clifton Daniel Jr., the handsome foreign correspondent who wooed and won her in a whirlwind romance, exchange vows in little Trinity Episcopal Church.

After a brief reception in the big, white-framed Truman home at 219 N. Delaware St., they will fly off to Nassau, the Bahamas, for a honeymoon of two weeks.

HST Approves
And her father, the former President, can relax from the ordeal that every father of a bride can understand.

"I am happy because Margaret is happy," he said. "The more I see of Margaret's young man the better I like him."

Daniel, 43, assistant to the foreign editor of the New York Times, and the 32-year-old radio-TV actress-singer pursued their arm-in-arm course about Independence while Truman's neighbors looked on approvingly but with a minimum of hubbub.

Where Parents Wed
Wedding day dawned with premarital events moving like clockwork on the quiet and simple pattern upon which mother, father and daughter agreed.

It was at Trinity Episcopal Church that Truman, a life-long Baptist, was married to Bess Wallace 37 years ago.

Margaret, when she goes down the aisle with her father, will carry a prayer book given her by grandmother Wallace when she was confirmed in 1940.

Old, New, Borrowed, Blue
She will wear something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue, as befits the occasion, but she asked permission to keep secret just what those articles are.

The church was decorated with large pots of woodwardia ferns and white chrysanthemums and white stock Candelabra with 18-inch white tapers were interspersed among the flowers and ferns. There were two large candles on the altar.

Only members of the families, a few close friends and a few members of the press were invited to the ceremony, to be performed by the rector, the Rev. Patrick Hutton. The bride will wear an ankle-length blegg gown made of centuries-old Venetian lace.

The gown was designed by Nicol Fontana of Rome, who will be one of the wedding guests.

Margaret will have two attendants, Mrs. W. Coleman Branton, Kansas City, and Mrs. John Horton, Los Angeles, daughter of John Snyder, Truman's former secretary of the Treasury.

The groom will wear trousers of tiny black and white shepherd plaid, gray waistkit and Oxford gray jacket.

Records on the breeding of Karakul sheep go back 6,000 years.

Happy Reunion

Margaret Truman holds her hair in place as she smiles happily with her groom-to-be, E. Clifton Daniel, New York Times newspaperman, after his arrival from New York in Kansas City, Thursday. Daniel and Miss Truman drove to the home of former President Harry S. Truman in nearby Independence, Mo. They plan to marry Saturday. (AP Wirephoto)

ADLAI, ESTES NECK AND NECK IN 3 STATES

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee were reported today to be running neck-and-neck in the Oregon, Florida and California primaries.

Members of the Democratic National Committee living in those states summed up the situation as they see it in interviews while attending a two-day party rally.

Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, predicted Stevenson will get an "overwhelming majority" of Pennsylvania's 74 Democratic presidential nominating votes in that state's primary next Tuesday. Kefauver is not entered there and reportedly has only scattered support among delegate candidates.

Opinions Vary
Lawrence, a veteran member of the committee and an all-out Stevenson supporter, told reporters he thinks the 1952 presidential nominee will get the party nomination again, even if he loses in Oregon, Florida and California.

But some other party members attending the rally, which winds up tonight with a $100-a-plate Woodrow Wilson dinner, made it clear they believe Stevenson is fighting for his political life in the last of the big primary tests before the convention. Stevenson will attend tonight's dinner—as a guest, not a speaker—after a luncheon address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He will be the guest also at a cocktail party given by a dozen senators who have endorsed his candidacy.

Sees Close Affair
Kefauver, booked for a speech in Portland, Ore., was credited with making a close affair out of a campaign for write-in votes by the two top rivals in the May 18 Oregon primary. Neither has his name on the ballot there.

Monroe Sweetland, Oregon national committeeman, said party and other polls give conflicting figures on the popularity of the two candidates. He said he regards the outcome as a toss-up, with the results likely to affect those in other primary states.

Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois national committeeman and a winter resident of Florida, said that as far as he can learn the two candidates are running even for the May 29 Florida primary. At stake in Florida are 28 presidential nominating votes.

SAYS FIRST 30 DAYS HOLD FATE OF BOSTON SOX

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams thinks the first 30 days of the season will determine the fate of the Boston Red Sox.

If Boston can get off to a running start and stay in front of New York at the mid-May mark—say by three or four games—the Red Sox will have a good chance to upset the favored Yankees. That's the opinion of the Red Sox slugger who never has been known to avoid saying exactly what is on his mind.

"I'm not yet ready to say we've got as good a chance to win as the Yankees have," he said. "I think we have a better team than last year but we can use some help. I think we need just a little more hitting—one more thumper, whether he's left-handed or right-handed."

"The kids—Don Buddin and Frank Malone—look like they'll help, but the key to our offense is Sammy White. If he can add about 10 home runs and pick up 20 or 25 RBIs he'd be the greatest catcher in the league."

"We can use more balance in the pitching department. All our front line pitching is right-handed. If either of our southpaws—Mel Parnell or Frank Baumann, or both—come through, we'll give the Yankees or any other club a real battle."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gene (Cyclone) Fullmer, 160, West Jordan, Utah, outpointed Ralph (Tiger) Jones, 157, Yonkers, N.Y. 10.

POINT SYSTEM, AGE LIMIT ARE NBA PROPOSALS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A point scoring system and a maximum age limit for professional fighters have been recommended for all states by a National Boxing Assn. committee drafting a national code to govern the sport.

A two-day meeting of athletic commissioners from six states ended yesterday with two panels deciding on scores of major provisions that should be included in a uniform law.

The committee's decisions were handed to four deputies of the Pennsylvania attorney general, who will compile a rough draft of the proposed code.

Must Stay Active
Commissioner Alfred M. Kline of the Pennsylvania commission said the draft probably would be submitted next month to the executive committee of the NBA for consideration by the annual NBA convention.

Henry Lamar, of the Massachusetts Athletic Commission, said the panel on general and safety provisions, which he headed, suggested minimum and maximum age limits of 18 and 35 for professional lighters.

"The one exception on the maximum would be those who are currently active even though over 35. But if they are inactive for one year, then the limit would apply," he said.

Scoring System
The second panel on licensing and enforcement, headed by Julius Greenstein, Portland, Me., of the Maine commission, recommended the code include the "10 point must" scoring system.

Under that system the boxer winning a round must receive 10 points. The loser could receive any number up to nine and both boxers could receive 10, or a draw for the round.

At present, although the NBA recommends the point system, some states score by rounds and others use combinations of rounds and points.

VILLANOVA IS RACE FAVORITE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ron Delany, the anchor man, and his Villanova mates were favored to take both the four-mile and the distance medley tests today in the Queens-lan Relays—the final major tune-up for the Penn Relays next weekend.

Delany, who may race against mile record-holder John Landy when the great Australian runs in two meets in Los Angeles next month, will anchor both Wildcat quartets.

Villanova will be a threat also in the mile relays because ace half-miler Charlie Jenkins is the anchor man in this one. Jenkins made up huge chunks of yardage in bringing the Wildcats victories all through the winter campaign.

Other favorites were Morgan State in the quarter-mile relay, Manhattan in the half-mile relay, Yale in the two-mile and Manhattan in the spring medley.

Villanova was a sure-fire choice also in the pole vault with 15-foot-er Don Bragg and the high jump with Phil Reavis, a 6-10 operative.

GENE FULLMER DEFEATS JONES WITH SLUGGING

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gene Fullmer's slambang victory over Ralph (Tiger) Jones here last night sent his stock as a middleweight jumping upward. And even before he was in street clothes, Fullmer was making plans to boost it again next month against Charlie Humez in New York.

The jut-browed West Jordan, Utah copper miner, outslugged Jones for a unanimous decision in a bruising and cleanly fought 10-rounder before 2,574 fans. He weighed 160 to Jones' 157 1/2.

After the fight Fullmer's manager, Marv Jensen, said he had arranged a May 25 bout at Madison Square Garden against Humez, the European champion whom Jones upset a month ago.

No Knockdowns
Fullmer, currently ranked seventh middleweight two notches behind Jones, piled up a lead in the first two rounds, slipped a little at midway, then rallied to build much of his margin in the late rounds.

Although they mixed it up in furious exchanges all of the way, there were no knockdowns.
Referee Lou Parker gave Fullmer a 97-94 edge, and the two judges rated it 96-95 and 97-89, while the AP card put Fullmer ahead 96-95.

CARD PITCHERS HAVE HANDED OUT 8 HOMERS

The Associated Press
It's a new season, all right, but the St. Louis Cardinals' pitching staff is still staggering around with a homer hanger.

The Redbirds were clipped for '85 home runs last season, a major league record. Now it looks like the mark may not last the year.

In three games, St. Louis pitching has been pickled for eight homers, including the only grand slam so far in either league (by Cincinnati's Ray Jablonski, the ex-Card). Three of them came last night to overhaul an early St. Louis lead and get Milwaukee started on a 5-4 decision that left the Braves unbeaten atop the National League.

Pair For Mathews
Eddie Mathews smacked a pair, his first of the season, and Wes Covington poked the other, with a man on base, in a pinch-role as Milwaukee went 2-0 for the season. Right behind are Brooklyn, which shelled Pittsburgh 5-0 on Roger Craig's nifty four-hitter and Junior Gilliam's four RBIs; and Philadelphia, which edged the New York Giants 2-1 on a bases-loaded single by Del Ennis in the 10th.

The Chicago Cubs whacked Cincinnati 12-1 in the other game behind a four-hitter by Sam Jones, who fanned nine.

Yanks Wallop Sox
In the American, Mickey Mantle drove in four runs as the New York Yankees walloped Boston's Red Sox 7-1; the Chicago White Sox remained unbeaten and in first place by beating Kansas City 6-3 as Ron Northey triggered a three-run ninth with a pinch, two-run homer; Cleveland won its first, beating Detroit 3-1 behind Early Wynn's five-hitter; and Baltimore gained its first victory with Gus Triandos' two-run homer that beat Washington 3-2.

Milwaukee homers came off starter Tom Poholsky, the big right-hander who gave up 26 opposite batters last season. Reliever Stu Miller was the loser, however, on Bobby Thomson's sacrifice fly that scored Mathews with an unearned winning marker in the eighth.

satin. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a round neckline, a yoke and long tapered sleeves. Sprays of applied lace extended from the waist in the full nylon net skirt. Her fingertip veil of nylon was attached to a crown of sequins, pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Miss Dorothy Ann Topper, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a lace ballarina-length gown of blue lace over blue satin. The fitted bodice of the dress featured a net yoke, a Chinese collar and tucked short sleeves. A knife-pleated panel of nylon net was inserted into the front of the skirt. She wore a matching floral headband with a face veil and carried a bouquet of white orchids.

The bridesmaid, Miss Yvonne Frances Topper, sister of a bride, wore a pink gown with pink, co-sories, identical to those of the maid of honor.

Brothers Are Acolytes
The flower girl, Pamela Louise Topper, sister of the bride, wore a green nylon net floor-length gown with a taffeta underskirt. As a head-dress she wore a bandeau of white spring flowers. She carried of basket of white baby orchids.

The best man was Robert Jordan, Emmitsburg. Francis Ling, Emmitsburg, was the usher. The ring-bearer was Joseph Topper, cousin of the bride, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Topper.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue acetate street-length dress with white and navy accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Raymond and James Topper, brothers of the bride, served as acolytes.

Reception Is Held
Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for relatives and friends. Hostesses at the reception were Miss Lorraine Lowe and Mrs. Edward Peters.

For her traveling costume the bride chosen a beige and toast ensemble with beige accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Cousins left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip of unannounced destination. Upon their return they will reside in Baltimore.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, class of 1952, and has been employed at Grants Department Store, Baltimore. The groom, a veteran of World War II, served in the Pacific area. At present he is employed as a department manager at Grants Store, Baltimore.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Baltimore, New York and Massachusetts.

His grandson, Raymond Haupp 7, died a few hours later in Sunbury Hospital.

Both were residents of Port Trevorton, Snyder County.

Critically injured was the operator of the other car, Carl Davis, 40, of St. Albans, W. Va. He was admitted to Sunbury Hospital.

10-Year-Old Emory C. Golden And 15-Year Old Sister, Yolanda, Are Active 4-H Clubbers

Emory Curtis Golden, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent E. Golden, York Springs, is a boy who can compete with his older sister, 15-year-old Yolanda Christina Golden, in 4-H activities on an equal plane. And for that matter Yolanda Christina can do just as well in the "men's" divisions of 4-H as her brother.

The two youngsters chosen by the county agents for this week's article in this series on outstanding 4-H members of the county take part with equal facility in both agricultural and home economics 4-H clubs.

Emory was a member of the York Springs home economics 4-H club as well as the agriculture club, and surprised himself, he says, by coming up with a blue ribbon first place prize-winning cake at the annual roundup held by the county's 4-H home economics clubs last fall. He says he hasn't baked a cake since, but admits baking a few pies "just too see if I could do it."

Yolanda Christina has been in the York Springs home economics club, of which her mother is local leader, for five years, and in the York Springs agriculture 4-H club for two years. With the other 4-H home economics members she had worked in teas, snacks, outdoor cookery and similar projects. In agriculture she has worked at gardening, raising pheasants, entomology, and currently she and her brother are both raising chickens in the "Chicken of Tomorrow" contest.

The chickens being raised by the two children are in a special pen to themselves at the far end of the huge chicken house at their parents' "Golden Ridge Hatchery," where about 300,000 chicks and 45,000 young turkeys are started on their way each year.

at the State Road School, declares that he is going to be a farmer when he grows up. His parents say they don't know of any boy who likes farming quite as much as he does. To him it's as much fun as sports might be to other boys. In addition to helping out at the hatchery and on the Golden farms, and baking prize winning cakes, he also raised two hogs last year as an agriculture 4-H project, has five pigs to raise this year as a 4-H project, in addition to the 100 chickens he is raising in the Chicken of Tomorrow contest. His other special claim is the lawn at home — which he keeps mowed and cleaned during the summer.

Yolanda Christina thinks the project she enjoyed most was raising 500 pheasants for the state last year, a project she plans to repeat this year. Mrs. Golden said her daughter "practically lived with the birds. And her father was around them more than Yolanda." Mr. Golden, grinning, admits that the pheasants were fascinating, but contends that the whole family took considerable interest in watching them grow.

Entomology Project

This year, in addition to taking part in the 4-H Home Economics club, Yolanda will carry on her Chicken of Tomorrow work with 100 chicks, will gather and mount specimens for an entomology project, this year on a larger scale than last year's project, and also will handle, again with the expected help of the entire family, the raising of 500 more pheasants for the state. She also helps with the housework, the hatching of the thousands of baby chicks on the farm for shipment to other farmers, and the handling of the chickens at the farm, including about 8,000 broilers that are raised on the farm in between 3,000 layers.

She also has served as secretary and treasurer and news reporter for the various 4-H clubs of which she has been a member.

That the family knows its chickens is attested by a number of blue ribbons hanging on the wall at the

Old Homes Can Be Done Over With Low Cost

How can I improve my home, change its old-fashioned look to one of contemporary beauty and still not have to spend too much money?

That is a good question, and one which will be asked tens of thousands of times this year as the nation-wide "Operation Home Improvement" campaign swings into high gear.

Of the nation's 45 million homes, more than half are over 30 years old, and seven out of every ten are over 20 years old.

Millions of women want a new, modern kitchen. Many more millions want to dress up their living and family rooms, giving them that casual, charming look which so fits into modern living. Hardly a room in an older home but that can stand some dressing up.

Wood Panel Walls

You can get the most for your money and make the greatest change in any room by simply wood paneling the walls. Readily available throughout the nation at retail lumber yards are beautiful panel boards of such popular species as Douglas fir and west coast hemlock.

If you want that rich, luxurious appearance, you can finish fir or hemlock in natural varnish or wax of grain, color and texture. Or you can use one of the exotic new rez colors which will retain all the grain and texture but give added beauty in your desired color.

The cost of wood paneling over plaster walls is not great. Any good carpenter or builder can do the job. They will be sure they have a good backing by installing furring strips to nail the panel boards to and to insure a level and even wall. Most older homes are frame construction, so will be easy to remodel, much easier than masonry walls.

Yolanda, now taking the general academic course at York Springs High School, says she plans to be a farmer when she completes schooling. The desire to be farmers seems to run in the family. An older brother, Gordon, now in the Army, is hopeful of discharge in June so he can get back to farming.

The Goldenes, who own two farms in the York Springs area, have another "crop" that the youngsters find quite pleasant to handle, German shepherd dogs. The dogs follow parents and youngsters around the farm. But the particular delight of all at present is a month-old white shepherd, one of the few white ones born to the farm's dogs. The youngsters, fondling the white haired puppy, agree, "We think we'll keep him."

ASK SWITCH ON COURT RULE OF WITHHELD FUNDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Devonian Gas and Oil Co., Lock Haven, has asked the State Supreme Court to upset a Clinton County Court ruling that Devonian illegally withheld income from a partner company on five gas wells drilled on state lands in Elk County.

William F. Beatty, Pittsburgh, counsel for Devonian, maintained at a hearing before the high court Thursday that all partners in the venture should share expenses, including even a $25,000 bond posted to insure performance.

"The cost of securing the bond is a cost of operation," said Beatty.

Not To Be Shared
Counsel for a partner firm, the Clearfield Development Corp., contended however, that the cost of the bond was not an item to be shared since Devonian has undertaken the project originally and agreed with partner companies to conduct all operations itself.

Atty. Morris Klewans, Lock Haven, said that Clearfield had been offered the opportunity to purchase an eighth interest in the operations three months after Devonian had obtained a lease on the ground in 1953.

Clinton County Court upheld the Clearfield firm's plea and lodged a judgment against Devonian for $3,125, which that firm had deducted from returns to Clearfield as a share of the bond cost.

Located On 600 Acres
The gas wells are located on a 600-acre tract leased from the State Game Commission in Benetown Twp., Elk County.

Beatty, in his argument, noted the bond is a performance bond and as such "becomes a charge of management and therefore a charge to be born by the group and not by the operating agent."

"There can be no escape from the interpretation that the continuance of the $25,000 bond is a charge on the joint venture group when we consider it states the bond shall be fixed after the first

Klewans maintained that contracts entered into by the companies make no mention whatsoever of any security having been deposited for the purpose of obtaining the lease and make no provision for sharing it.

"The contracts refer only to the cost of managing, operating, supervising and marketing," said Klewans.

"Since the lease was acquired so far in advance of the contracts, the cash deposited for security could not possibly represent a cost of managing or operating or marketing."

The court took the case under advisement.

FIVE CHARGED WITH PLOTTING TO CHEAT STATE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania state police Friday obtained warrants for the arrest of five men on charges they "falsely and maliciously conspired and agreed to cheat and defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission" in connection with work on the north-east extension of the state's toll road system.

The Scranton Times said Deputy Atty. Gen. Victor Wright at Harrisburg, told the newspaper the men were sought in connection with a contract held by the Rogers Construction Co. for the hauling and dumping of fill in bore holes along the turnpike right of way in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties.

State police Det. Sgt. James F. Murray said four of the men named in the warrants were: Joseph A. Rogers and his brother, Amos J. Rogers, operator of the construction firm with headquarters at Bell Mountain, Pa., and two of their employees, Walter J. Ketas, Scranton, R.D. 1, and George Oswald, Dunmore, Pa.

The name of the fifth man would be withheld, the state police sergeant said, "until he has been apprehended." He added the fifth man was not connected with the construction company.

Littlestown STUDENTS TO BE GUESTS TONIGHT AT J-C PARTY

The Juniors and Seniors of the Littlestown High School will be entertained at an all night party, following the annual Junior Prom tonight, by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce. The party will be held at the Rolling Acres Elementary School cafeteria and will include a snack, a full length movie, games and the serving of breakfast. Or if they plan to go to the party for part of the time, but leave before it is over, the time which the parents want their children to leave the party should be stated on the excuse. If transportation home is needed, the Jaycees will provide it.

Tell Stories Told
"Whoppers Night" was the program theme at the semi-monthly dinner meeting of the Littlestown Lions Club held on Thursday evening in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Clayton L. Evans received the prize for telling the biggest whopper. His prize was a 15-pound carp fish. The second largest tale was told by John C. Forry and his prize was a very small white fish. The Greeter committee, composed of the Rev. Porter W. Seiwel, Edgar A. Wolfe and Edward F. Hawk, which arranged the program, judged the tales. Each Lion who did not relate a whopper was fined 20 cents, and the fines amounting to $5 were given to the Cancer Fund drive. Musical entertainment was provided by the Lion Tamers, instrumental quartet consisting of Charles E. Tressler, Herbert J. Sell, Edgar A. Wolfe and Alvin J. Groff.

President Monroe J. Staveland conducted the business session and appointed the following nominating committee: Sterling J. Wisotzky, Clayton L. Evans and Wilbur E. Mackley. Delegates appointed to the state convention at the Penn Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, May 13, 14 and 15, were John D. Basehoar, Erwin A. Rebert and President Staveland. The club directors voted these donations: $15 for prizes for the Science Fair at the Littlestown High School in May; $20 for glasses, and $7 for two examinations. Bernard M. Selby, general chairman for the amateur show held a week ago, gave an incomplete financial report, and the show was pronounced a success. The Lions will meet again on Thursday, May 3, at 7 p.m. The program will be arranged by the Attendance committee, comprising John D. Basehoar and Wilbur A. Bankert.

The attendance banner will be awarded during the business session, which will be conducted by President Samuel J. Snyder. The Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary, will be the guest speaker.

GODFREY WILL DISCONTINUE ONE TV SHOW

NEW YORK—Arthur Godfrey will discontinue his Wednesday night television variety show, "Arthur Godfrey and His Friends," after the July 25 telecast.

CBS-TV, in an announcement yesterday, said Godfrey's Wednesday night show, on the network since Jan. 12, 1949, will be dropped at the behest of Godfrey to lighten his work load.

The network also disclosed that as of May 25 it will drop the daily half-hour TV shows now presented by Jack Paar and Robert Q. Lewis.

Schedule Too Heavy
Concerning Godfrey, CBS said he "has been contemplating this move for some time because of the increasing pressures of maintaining his current schedule of radio and television programs, one of the heaviest in all of broadcasting."

Godfrey has been devoting 13½ hours a week to various programs.

He will continue his "Arthur Godfrey Time" morning show on radio Monday through Friday and on TV Monday through Thursday, and his Monday night "Talent Scouts" on TV and radio.

Sponsors Happy
Without elaborating, the CBS announcement also said: "From time to time Mr. Godfrey will present special broadcasts of one hour or longer duration."

The announcement took no note of recurrent speculation that Godfrey may be near retirement. The network spokesman also said the popularity ratings on "Friends" program have not dropped and its sponsors "are happy."

No replacement for the "Friends" program has yet been announced.

The change does not affect Lewis' CBS radio show.

$75,000 FIRE DAMAGE
WEST CHESTER, Pa. — A vacant ice and ice cream plant was wrecked by flames yesterday, and firemen estimated damage at $75,000.

Firemen said sparks from blow torches being used by workmen in dismantling the plant were responsible for the blaze. Three fire companies fought the fire for three hours. Two apartments in the building and two nearby houses were damaged. No one was injured.

The plant was owned by Vincenzo Ricci.

CHILDREN OF GOD

Three things mar the beauty of this picture. DIRT . . . POVERTY . . . and NEGLECT.

Dirt can be scrubbed away in ten minutes. Poverty cannot destroy human character. It has bred some of our greatest men and women.

But neglect—for it there is neither cure nor consolation. It is the shadow of evil days to come.

Delinquency, immorality and crime can nearly always be traced to neglect. And not simply to the physical neglect so evident in this picture. Evil lives stem from the neglect of our children's spiritual needs. There are youngsters with clean faces and fine clothes who are being brought up in the soul-stifling atmosphere of a church-less home.

Our children are children of God. It is their sacred right to learn of their Father, and to see Him honored daily in their homes.

Parents, where will your children be on Sunday morning?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday School Lesson

THE CHURCH ENDURES PERSECUTION

Acts 6:8-10; 7:51-60

Key Verse: For the sake of Christ you should not only believe in him but also suffer for his sake. Philippians 1:29.

The persecution of people in our generation has been horrible and merciless — a blot on our civilization. The number of martyrs who have died for their faith in God and political justice is greater than in any other period of Christian history. Self-exalted dictators have used war as their excuse to exterminate innocent men and women because of racial backgrounds, age, and incapacity to serve their country in wartime. Cattle cars loaded with human cargo for Siberia or extermination centers, torture chambers in concentration camps, mass burials of innocent victims make the inhumanities of the ancient Persians and Babylonians seem mild in comparison.

Death of First Martyr

This study is based on the death of the first Christian martyr — Stephen. He appears on the scene rather suddenly, but scholars believe he came to Jerusalem as a student, possibly in the school headed by Gamaliel. It is thought he may have seen Jesus during that last, sad week, and likely became a convert not later than Pentecost. Very likely he was a Hellenistic Jew from Alexandria.

Stephen soon became an active member of the Christian community in Jerusalem and is the first one of the Seven chosen by the apostles to superintend the distribution of alms. These seven were the first deacons of the early Church. The apostles chose members from among the Gentile converts because complaints had come from the Hellenistic Jewish Christians that their widows were neglected in the daily distribution of food, etc. However, Stephen did not confine his activities to that work alone. He embraced every opportunity to talk to others about the new faith.

Specialty Endowed

Apparently Stephen was specially endowed with personality and power. In Acts 6:8 the account reads, "And Stephen, full of grace and power, did great wonders and signs among the people." He possessed not only courage and ability to hold attention, but power to work miracles. This was rare in a layman of the apostolic age. His unusual activity, eventually brought criticism and accusations. The trouble began in the synagogue of the Freedmen or Libertines, those who enjoyed more liberty than the Palestinian Jews. They charged that Stephen had blasphemed against Moses and God. As a result of this protest, he was brought before the Sanhedrin.

The witnesses were false as those against Jesus had been. Stephen's long defense reached its climax when he applied it to his hearers in no uncertain terms: "You stiff-necked people, uncircumcised in heart and ears, you always resist the Holy Spirit. As your fathers did, so do you." With these cutting words his listeners prepared to rush upon him. Before they set upon him, the martyr had a vision of Christ standing at the right hand of God. In an act of mob violence he was cast out of the city and stoned to death. In the midst of his anguish he cried out, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." Fortunately in this hour of death he had been granted the vision of Christ and God.

World-wide Mission

Stephen had grasped the idea of the world-wide mission of the Church more quickly than his associates. As one writer has said, "They (the Grecian Jews) had religious zeal, but lacked love and grace." Sometimes it seemed that early Christians who showed promise and exerted considerable influence were purposely misunderstood; it shows the hostility that always confronts the Church. Anyone who was brave enough to preach the right of the individual to think and worship as he pleases was considered a troublemaker.

The martyrdom of Stephen had one keen and contemptuous witness — Saul of Tarsus. No doubt Luke heard the story from the Apostle Paul himself, an event which was engraved on his heart and spirit. The speech and death of Stephen was the beginning of the persecution of Christians in Jerusalem and the dispersion of the little Christian community. They mark the transition of Christianity from this early Jewish form to its extension among the Gentiles. Each stage, even this persecution, was a milestone in the growth and influence of the Church. Martyrs may die prematurely, but their spirit lives on in the cause for which they gave their lives.

Only in modern wars have battle casualties exceeded the number of soldiers who were disease casualties. Tropical disease long delayed the white settlement of Africa.

TIGER BOARD OFF HISS FUSS

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Princeton University's board of trustees has voted to keep hands off a controversial invitation by a student group to Alger Hiss for a speech on the campus.

At the same time, the board expressed unanimous disapproval of the invitation by the American Whig-Clasophilic Society, a campus debating group, to the convicted perjurer to speak April 26.

The action was taken at yesterday's regular meeting of the board with Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Princeton President Harold W. Dodds attending as nonvoting ex-officio members.

The invitation to Hiss, a former State Department official who served a prison term for perjury after denying he passed secret papers to Whitaker Chambers, an admitted courier of a Soviet spy ring, has brought praise and fire by various groups and members of Congress.

RED TRAVELERS VISIT EDEN AT COUNTRY HOME

By STANLEY GODFREY
LONDON (AP)—Russia's two traveling leaders set out today for a weekend stay at Prime Minister Eden's country residence and another round of top-level talks on East-West issues.

Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev, who have agreed to join the British in a search for a Middle East peace plan, were slated to spend the night at Eden's at a tour of the English countryside.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd also will be on hand at Chequers—official residence of Britain's prime minister.

Tight Security
The tight security screen which has enveloped the Soviet leaders since their arrival Wednesday for a 10-day visit will be carried into the countryside.

An unprecedented security cordon will remain around Eden's residence until the two visitors leave Sunday afternoon for tea with Queen Elizabeth II at Windsor Castle.

Today's itinerary included stops at ancient Oxford University and Britain's top secret atomic center at Harwell.

After yesterday's round of talks, the Russian leaders and Eden ordered their experts to submit proposals for a U.N. program designed to avoid war between Arabs and Israelis.

3 Main Problems
Eden and the Kremlin chiefs face three main problems in their Middle East discussions:

1. How to evolve some system for rationing the supply of Communist and Western arms to the Arabs and Israelis. Britain reportedly has a plan through which the U.N. would ration shipments.
2. How to repel any aggressor in the troubled sector.
3. Talks about the Baghdad alliance of Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan. The Russians view the pact as a threat to them and want it broken up.

Between talks on the Middle East, the Russians have been busy since their arrival plugging East-West trade, world peace and the abolition of armed forces.

The Jordan River Valley is 2,000 feet below the surrounding countryside in some places.
